YOUR SUPPORT

For more than 40 years, Congregation B'nai Israel has been a place where Jewish life comes alive in Boca Raton. Rooted in Jewish values and open to all who seek connection, CBI brings people together through prayer, learning, celebration, and acts of kindness. We are more than a synagogue. We are a community where relationships are built, traditions are honored, and every individual is welcomed and supported.

At its core, CBI is about people. From our Nadel Center for Early Childhood Education and religious school to youth programs, adult learning, worship experiences, and meaningful social action, we serve individuals and families at every stage of life. Everything we do is focused on creating enriching, joyful, and purposeful experiences that help our members grow spiritually, intellectually, and socially.

Each week, hundreds of congregants walk through our doors to celebrate Shabbat, mark life's milestones, connect with friends, and find a sense of belonging. For families, CBI becomes a second home. For children and teens, it is a place to explore their Jewish identity and build lifelong friendships. For adults and seniors, we offer opportunities for wellness, culture, education, and community engagement that inspire lifelong connection.

Our youth and family programs play a vital role in this work. Through early childhood education, religious school, camps, and special events, children gain confidence, leadership skills, and a strong foundation in Jewish values. These experiences foster compassion, responsibility, and pride that extend far beyond the classroom and into everyday life.

The impact of our community extends well beyond our campus. Through social action initiatives, volunteerism, and partnerships with local organizations, we live our commitment to tikkun olam, repairing the world. Together, we care for those in need, support one another in times of joy and challenge, and strengthen the broader community we call home.

Congregation B'nai Israel thrives because of the generosity and involvement of our members, supporters, and partners. Their commitment ensures that our programs remain accessible, inclusive, and meaningful for every person who walks through our doors. With their support, we continue to build a vibrant Jewish future for generations to come.
